School Bells Soon to Ring Here As Vacation Ends for Thousands

An estimated enrollment of 5700 is expected in the 10 elementary schools of the Campbell Union School District on opening day, Monday, September 17, according to William C. Henley, district superintendent.

It is also anticipated that the student enrollment will rise to more than 6100 before the end of the school year but by that time the district's newest school, Sherman Oaks, now in the process of being built, will be open for business. The time table calls for this school to be ready for occupancy in February of next year.

For the first time, seventh graders from the Cypress, Monroe and Moorpark school areas will be housed in the Monroe School. Campbell Grammar will continue to have only seventh and eighth grades but it is planned to also add the eighth grade to the Monroe School in 1957. The other schools in the district will contine to operate with grades from kindergarten through sixth.

There will be 56 new teachers in the district this year. About half of this number will be replacements while half will take care of the growth of the district. The additional teaching personnel also allows for the staff that will be needed at the new Sherman Oaks School when it opens in February.

Neal Royer, formerly principal of Monroe School, will begin his first full year as assistant superiintendent of the district, for another change in operation from last year. C. E. Bradley continues in his position as business manager and Mrs. Helen Peterson as coordinator of instruction. Robert Landreth has replaced Royer as principal at Monroe and several new vice-principals have been named in the [illegible]

School offices will be open on Tuesday, September 4, for the registration of kindergarten and new pupils in the district, school district officials report. Pupils entering kindergarten must have attained the age of four years and nine months on or before September 1, 1956 and pupils entering the first grade must have attained the age of five years and nine months on or before September 1, 1956. Proof of age is required. Kindergarten children will be received on a first come, first served basis and wating lists may be necessary in some instances.

Next week also sees the start of the round of pre-opening activities for the faculty and administration staff of the district. Almost all next week will be taken up with conferences and meetings. Starting the week of September 11, meetings for both new and old teachers will take place at the various schools.

Two High Schools In District Open On September 17

With the opening of the two high schools in the Campbell Union High School District (Campbell and Camden) set for Monday, September 17, two weeks away, those students who have moved recently to the district are urged by the principals to register now, if they have not already done so.

School offices at both Campbell and Camden high schools are open for registration daily Monday through Friday from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 1:30 to 4 p.m. They will be closed on Labor Day, however.

Approximately 3000 students are expected to be enrolled in the two schools this year with 1100 at Camden and the balance in Campbell. A junior class will be added to Camden High this year bringing the enrollment up 400 over last year, the first year of its operation when only freshmen and sophomores were in attendance.

All seniors in the district will attend Campbell High. Students other than seniors living on the east side of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and east of the Los Gatos Creek in that portion south of Campbell Ave. will attend Camden High located at the corner of Camden and Union avenues.

Construction of additional facilities at Camden High to accommodate the new junior class has been virtually completed. The same type of "open-style" architecture has been continued in the new additions, making the school one of the most modern in design in the area. The new additions are valued at about $350,000 and include four new wings with 17 classrooms.

H. E. Alfson is acting principal of Camden High replacing Dean Chamberlin who is on sick leave. Samuel P. Reed is principal of Campbell High School. The principals point out that the new students already registered at the schools indicate that many new families have moved into the district because of the various expanding industries in the area. New registrants are coming from other states and all parts of California, and even from Hawaii and Jamaica.

Decision of Electronics Industry to Come To Campbell May Bring Others to Area

. . . "We have decided that the same should be a part of the City of Campbell" . . .

This statement in a letter from Dwight Caswell, president of Cascade Research, Inc., to Mayor John M. Chargin of Campbell, read at the Campbell City Council Monday night, may have cleared the way for the start of a major industrial expansion program for this city.

As a result of this letter, Campbell will soon be the home of a high type of industry, a part of the booming electronics research and manufacturing filed.

The firm will be located in a spanking new 30,000 square foot plant on E. Parr Ave. where 100 people will be employed, many of them top-flight engineers and technicians.

Confabs Settle it

Campbell's good fortune in the obtaining of the Cascade Research, Inc., now of Los Gatos, came about because officials of the two cities, Campbell and Los Gatos, and officers of the firm were able to discuss and settle the vexing annexation problems involved around a conference table.

Such a settlement of differences is in direct contrast with the usual dog-eat-dog attitude prevalent when two cities vie for new industry and the resulting benefits that are derived from payrolls and additional taxes.

The firm having outgrown its Los Gatos headquarters some time ago purchased 20 acres of uninhabited territory on E. Parr Ave. which lies between the Town of Los Gatos and the City of Campbell but was a part of neither city. Both cities covetously eyed the section and revealed they would like to have Cascade within their respective city limits. The firm indicated that it was agreeable to go either way.

Los Gatos Moves

Los Gatos mover first. That city filed an annexation map that included Cascade's 20 acres but later withdrew the area after a conference between both cities and the firm indicated that Cascade apparently fovared Campbell as its city of choice.

"We value the friendly relations of Campbell more than the loss of an industry," Mayor E. C. Merrill said in announcing the withdrawal.

This week the friendly tug-of-war was concluded with the letter of President Caswell of Cascade to Mayor Chargin of Campbell which officially confirmed that the desire of the company was to be in the City of Campbell.

Caswell's Letter

In his letter, Caswell paid respects to the Town of Los Gatos which has been the home of the company since its founding in 1953.

Caswell wrote: "After considering all the various facets of the problem involved in locating our new plant, we have decided that the same should be a part of the City of Campbell . . .

"We have made this decision without any intention of casting reflections upon the Town of Los Gatos with which we have enjoyed an amiable relationship over the years of our firm's existence and we are confident that we will enjoy the same relationship with the City of Campbell.

"Accordingly we desire that the City of Campbell institute annexation proceedings at the earliest possible opportunity to effectuate the inclusion of our plant site immediately south of E. Parr Ave., within the boundaries of the City of Campbell . . ."

Members of the City Council greeted the green light from Cascade with enthusiasm. They revealed that steps would be taken as soon as possible to bring the territory within the confines of the city.

Another 30 Days

Actually it will be another 30 days, however, before an annexation proceedings can begin. At Monday's meeting the City Council approved the ordinance that annexed almost 60 acres to the city on the southern city limits extending along the Southern Pacific tracks from Camden to E. Parr Ave. This new section of the city ties onto the Cascade property.

New Plant to go Here

Cascade Research Gives Evidence Of New Boom in Electronics Field

With the announcement that Cascade Research, Inc. now in Los Gatos desires to have its new plant located in Campbell, local attention focused on the activities of this firm and others of similar nature, offspring of the new electronics age. Optimism was voiced by some city officials that Cascade could be the forerunner of other industries of like functions that might locate here. The entire electronics field is in the throes of a tremendous boom.

Cascade Research, Inc., now in the midst of an expansion program that includes the building of a 30,000 square foot plant on the 20 acres the company owns on E. Parr Ave., has given Los Gatos a strictly residential town a taste of a whirling industrial enterprise right in the center of its business district. And it has all happened since 1953.

Since January 12, 1953, when young Dwight Caswell, who is president of the company, and Jerry Jaffe, vice-president, first set up shop in Los Gatos, Cascade has absorbed two locations on Victory Lane and has rented the top floor of the IOOF Building.

Back in 1953 the two men had an electric gadget which could provide high color fidelity and eliminate distortion for microwave TV transmission, and at the same time stabilize radar beams. They developed the basic idea iin Caswell's San Diego garage while both were with Hughes Aircraft Corp.

The equipment the firm now makes, according to company officials, paves the way for new gains in the industry. Improved color for TV, better radar and more exact measuring devices are being made more practical with the application of electronic devices turned out by the firm. Added to the major lines of microwave components and test equipment is the newly-started section for ceramic traveling wave tubes.

The present staff of 70 includes about 20 engineers and technicians among whom are 12 graduate engineers. It is planned when the new plant is built in Campbell that the staff will be increased to at least 100. It is hoped to start the new building on Parr Ave. either this Fall or early next Spring. The company is currently capitalized at $505,000 and will complete the sale of a new common stock shortly.

Winchester Road Resurfacing Job To Start Soon, Engineer Reports

Assurance was given the City Council Monday night by Mark E. Thomas, city engineer, [illegible] at the long-awaited resurfacing of Winchester Road would soon get under way and that the job would be completed by December 1 before the rainy season.

The good news about Winchester Road, whose dips and bumps have raised havoc with nerves of people and springs of cars for some time, came at the close of the lengthy Council meeting at which most of the items on the agenda dealt in one way or another with either taxes or streets.

On Tax Front

On the tax front, the Council officially set the expected .713 as the 1956-57 tax rate, a drop of three cents over last year and almost 12 cents below the rate the City had considered earlier before the big jump in the assessed valuation was made known. The assessed valuation has been set at $9,293,800. almost $2 million above last year.

The budget for the city anticipates approximately $34,000 to be derived from the sales tax levy whether it is countywide in scope or exclusively Campbell's. The county wide sales tax will not go into effect until all the cities approve the county's take and Milpitas at present time was still holding out. Campbell must (and will) at the next Council meeting (September 10) adopt a sales tax ordinance to go into effect by October. 1.

City Attorney Joseph Bonacina was authorized to file condemnation proceedings on eight parcels of property needed for widening of Hamilton Ave., from Winchester Road to Central Ave. Bonacina reported that 14 property owners on the street have agreed to sign contracts totalling $15,019. The Council authorized a deposit of $8925 to take care of the condemnation suits.

Winchester Gets New Top

On the resurfacing of Winchester, City Engineer Thomas explained that preliminary engineering work was being done on the street and that he expected to let contracts for the job shortly. He said that 26-feet of the street would be taken care of and that after the road was ironed out a 2-inch top would be added.

The Councilmen deferred action on the billboard ordinance that would protect the Route 5 freeway

End of "Day"

Detective Work of Local Cops Halts Cross-Country One-Man Crime Spree

A "Day" came to an end in New York this week. But it wasn't because the sun went down.

Expert detective work on the part of members of the Campbell Police Department was largely responsible for the apprehension this week of a wanted criminal with a past and allegedly present record of almost astronomical proportions, extending from ocean to ocean.

And that part of the man's record that applied to Campbell was the most insignificant on the entire list.

In Albany, New York, Alfred Keith Day, 25, (with a former address of 260 Dillon, Campbell) was arrested this week when he attempted to pass a worthless check in a motel in that city after an all-state bulletin had been issued. New York City police had been alerted by Richard Mayne, Campbell police officer, who was the investigating officer for the criminal act that was allegedly committed by Day in Campbell.

Day is charged locally with the theft of two blankets and $25 from the Campbell Hotel on August 5. But the Campbell offense was but the start of a series of criminal acts attributed to the 6-foot, 8-inch, 210-pound man.

The Campbell police by studying typed letters that they were able to obtain from Days girl friend managed to identify them as being written on an electric typewriter that had been stolen from a construction firm in Eureka. About $16,000 in signed payroll checks, and a check protector machine were stolen at the same time.

The trail then led to Bend, Oregon to Wyoming then to Minneapolis and finally to New York. During his cross-country tour, Day, in company with a former prison buddy of his, is accused of armed robbery in several instances, three car thefts and the passing of bad checks.

The State of California also entered the picture because of a parole violation of the 24-year old who in March, accordiing to local police records, was released from the Santa Clara County jail. Previously, however, he had served time (starting in 1948) in the Federal prison in Colorado, prison in Oklahoma in 1951 and in San Quentin in 1953.

On The Line in Campbell

Vito Rasa, 80-year old chicken rancher at 155 Kennedy Ave., accused of "unlawful display of firearms" when he allegedly fired at teenage boys who were tormenting him pleaded not guilty to the charge in the Campbell court last Thursday. Jury trial has been set for September 18 in the Los Gatos Court. Rasa faces a misdemeanor charge and was represented by David E. Smith, San Jose attorney. Police in filing the misdemeanor charge took in account Rasa's age and that the assault was provoked.

Mrs. Nellie Ramsey will teach the third and fourth grades this year, and Earl McPhee, principal, will teach fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, with assistance from the other two teachers.

Cambrian District Tries New System As Walls Bulge

Schools of the Cambrian Elementary School District will open on September 11 with their walls bulging, yet will remain on single session. A new technique will be used whereby a second fully credentialed teacher will share the teaching responsibility in the cases of excessive pupil loads.

D. M. Bagby, district superintendent, thinks that this idea, although not a new one, is the first time that it has been put to practice. Bagby estimates an opening day enrollment of 2100 pupils that will be housed in the district's three schools.. The fourth school, the Farnham School, will be completed and opened in early November.

The district has 17 new teachers to supplement the 57 of last year's staff. The enrollment in the Cam-

Moreland Schools Open September 17

When schools in the Moreland District open Monday, September 17, approximately 500 more students will be enrolled than opening date last year, according to Mrs. Gussie Baker, district superintendent. Enrollment in September last year was 964 and to date, approximately 1400 have enrolled, with more expected before opening date.

Although Strawberry Park School is still in the process of construction with completion date expected to be November 1st, the school will temporarily hold session in the afternoons at El Quito Park School with that school on half sessions in the mornings. The new principal for Strawberry Park School, David Graves, with a staff of 10 teachers, will take up their duties on opening date. Upon completion of their school, the staff and students will transfer to their new plant.

A total of 393 students have enrolled in the new school to date, with an increase in enrollment anticipated during the school year.

Robert Tack will continue as principal of both El Quito Park and Bucknall Schools, although he will be assisted by James W. Hall, vice-principal, a new member of the Moreland District staff.

Although an additional school on Campbell Ave. is not yet under construction, the site has been acquired and plans will soon start on the building. Architectural drawings were to be presented to trustees last night.

The new school, when completed, will relieve crowded conditions at Moreland School.

Kiwanians Hear About Dentistry

Campbell Kiwanis Club met with Los Gatos Kiwanians last Thursday, when about thirteen members from Campbell attended and heard a talk on guided missiles by a captain in the armed services.

When the club held its regular meeting last Tuesday, they heard a San Jose dentist speak on patients' fear of the dentist chair. He stressed new techniques in dentistry used today, compared with the crude and painful methods used not too long ago, before the use of novocain.

Members were amused to hear that dentists are more fearful of having dental work done, than the average patient.

Dr. Howard Manson, chairman for the meeting, introduced the speaker.

from advertising signs through the town. J. Williams, of Foster & Kleiser, outdoor advertising firm, was present and agreed that such an ordinance was necessary and offered his services to Nestor Barrett, city planning consultant to work out details of the new ordinance.

After a public hearing, the Council passed through first reading an ordinance changing the zoning of a strip on San Jose-Los Gatos Road from a light manufacturing to commercial. Residents of the area had previously asked that a much larger area be rezoned but the change passed by the Council was a result of considerable study on the part of both the Planning Commission and the City Council. Glenn Pritchard, 101 S. San Jose-Los Gatos Road had voiced the only protest at the hearing. He questioned the reasoning of the city officials in making the change.

Pritchard maintained that the zone should have remained light manufacturing. He earned a chuckle from both Councilmen and spectators when, after seeing that the zone change was going through despite his protest, he asked for a ruling of how much time he would have to put up a manufacturing plant before the zone-change was officially a law.

Other Actions

In other actions, the Council:

(1) Passed the ordinance approving the annexation of approximately 60 acres on the southern city limits, extending along the Southern Pacific Railroad to E. Parr Ave.

(2) Deferred until the October meeting action on the request of the Chamber of Commerce for $300 to defray the cost of Christmas decorations for the streets.

(3) Authorized Al Cook, deputy Civil Defense director, to proceed with plans for a local Civil Defense program.

(4) Accepted the recommendation of Councilman Richard Morton in his capacity as traffic engineer that the speed limit on Budd Ave be reduced. Morton's request was granted that mechanical counters be obtained to check the traffic flow at the intersection of Rincon, Virginia, Bucknall and Cypress avenues. Residents in that area had asked that the intersection become a four-way stop one.

(5) Granted the Charles Engdol Construction Co. an extension until July 1, 1957 for the completion of the Latimer Park subdivision.

Supervisors Drop County Tax Rate For Fiscal Year

The county general tax rate was set at $1.081 per $100 assessed valuation by the Board of Supervisors Monday, a decrease of 5.8 cents from last year.

The new rate does not reflect an expected $500,000 in extra revenue during the fiscal year from the one-cent uniform sales tax.

The spervisors, however, pledged to use any sales tax funds collected this year toward another tax rate cut next year.

The new tax rate, based on the 1956-57 budget of $33,500,000 was set without considering the sales tax revenue, as the city of Milpitas still is holding out against the new county-wide uniform tax.

The tax ordinance is scheduled to go into effect October 1, but only if all the county's 14 cities agree to its terms of giving up nine per cent of their take to the county.

All the cities, except Milpitas, have agreed to date.

With Milpitas still holding out, board chairman Sam Della Maggiore declared the county should set the rate regardless of sales tax issue.

The new tax revenue would have resulted in an approximate further cut of from 7 to 8 cents. But the county had to adopt an ordinance setting the rate by the end of this week, according to state law.

Della Maggiore said the sales tax income will go into the general fund to be applied toward another tax rate cut next year.

The 5.8 cent decrease this year was a result of the supervisors' decision to place the county building program shortage in a $5 million bond proposal.

Without the bond proposal, the tax rate undoubtedly would have been increased.

The $1.801 tax rate broken down includes:

General, $1.084; building, .082; County Fair, .028; school, .003; charities, .235; welfare, .152; retirement, .072; county bond, .050; reserve, .044; advertising, .011.

Pay Those Taxes Friday – or Else

Roy P. Emerson, County Tax Collector, announces that the unsecured personal property tax becomes delinquent 5:00 p.m. this Friday, August 31, at which time an 8% penalty will be added.

The unsecured personal property tax is levied on unsecured personal property inventories which were filed with the County Assessor after March 5, 1956 and were billed by the County Tax Collector's office.

Unsecured Personal Property consists of stock, fixtures, equipment, solvent credits, etc, not included in a real estate tax bill.

For the first time in the history of Santa Clara County, unsecured personal property taxes were billed and made payable to the County Tax Collector's office. These duties formerly were handled by the County Assessor's office.

Fair Official Speaks to Lions

Campbell Lions Club program last Tuesday night included a group of accordion solos by Miss Patty Baker, of Santa Clara, a two-time audition winner at the County Fair.

Bill Long, assistant to the manager of the Santa Clara County Fair, was guest speaker, giving an account of the trials and tribulations in thinking up new ideas to create interest in the Fair.

During the meeting, a report was given on last Friday's barbecue at Chateau Boussey as a successful affair, with proceeds to go to the Art Jacobson memorial fund.

It was announced that the board meeting will be held next Tuesday, instead of Monday, at the home of Moe Bennett.

The September 11th program will be provided by the publicity department of Monsanto Chemical Company of Santa Clara, and will deal with the impact on the community of their many new products.

Local Ball Star Returns to Majors

John Oldham, former San Jose State and Campbell High pitching star announced recently his return to the Cincinnati Redlegs after a brief stay in the Navy.

Oldham, 23, began his professional career in 1954 with Columbia, S. C., a Redleg farm team in the South Atlantic League after four years of college baseball at San Jose State. He won two games without a defeat and was sent to Seattle where he posted a 9-6 record. Oldham was inducted early this year and became one of the top hitters for the San Diego Naval Training Center.

Oldham, a lefthander, was voted the outstanding player in the S. C. V. A. L. when he played for Campbell High in 1950. Despite a mediocre team, the 6-3, 180 pound lad won five games, lost three and struck out over 100 batters in eight league games. He hurled three one-hitters against loop foes who in 1950 included Washington, San Jose Tech, Live Oak, Fremont, Santa Clara, Los Gatos, Mountain View and Gilroy.

GRIDDERS WORK OUT SOON

It won't be long now!

Although the first football game for the Campbell High School Bucs is almost a month away, preparations for the prep gridiron wars are already underway, by the high school coaching staff.

Varsity Coach Jim Muir this week announced that physical examinations for all those who will be out for football will be given at the Campbell High gym next Wednesday, September 5, from 9 to 11 a.m. Dr. Robert M. Wade, team physician, will give the exams.

Camden High footballers will report for their physicals at 1 p.m. on the same day.

Physical examinations will also be given "C" and "D" basketball players at the same time, according to Bert Robinson, lightweight hoop mentor.

Coach Muir announced that the football players will begin their practice sessions under the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League rules on Monday, September 10, one week prior to the official opening of school.

Varsity and junior varsity will work out daily from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on the grammar school field while the lightweights will use the high school field from 4 to 6 p.m.

In Seventh Year

Muir, who is in his seventh year as varsity coach at Campbell, will be assisted this year by Lou Marotti as line coach, and Jim Bunger, as assistant coach. Marotti comes here from Turlock High where he served as line coach for the last two years. Bunger is a recent graduate of San Francisco State where he played end.

Wade Wilson isthe junior varsity coach and Hal Raley and Rod McDermot will handle the lightweights. About 35 are expected out for the varsity, 20 for the jv's and about 40 for the lightweights.

The Buc varsity tied for third with Santa Clara High in the SCVAL last year, losing two games. Fremont, the league champs, beat the local gridiron warriors as did Santa Clara.

The Bucs, however, have set an enviable record on the grid during recent years. Campbell won the championship three years running, 1952, 1953, and 1954.

Santa Clara First

The first league varsity game is scheduled with Santa Clara on Friday, October 5, at Santa Clara at 8 p.m. The lightweights tangle in a preliminary at 6 p.m. On Thursday, October 4, as the official league opener, the Los Gatos JV's come to Campbell for a battle at 3:30 p.m.

Muir has scheduled three practice games this year. The first on Saturday, September 29, at 8 p.m. when Campbell meets Lincoln High at Santa Clara and the other two games will be during the season when the locals draw byes.

San Jose vs. Campbell

San Jose High School and Campbell High meet on October 19 and Willow Glen and Campbell tangle on November 9.

On Friday, September 28, the junior varsity meets the Los Altos varsity at Los Altos and on the same day Los Altos Bees travel here to meet the local Bees.

AAU Swim Meet Takes Place Here Saturday, Sunday

Kiwanis-Campbell Swim Club, co-sponsored by Campbell Kiwanis Club and Campbell Union High School Recreation District, will hold the second annual group and open swimming meet at the local pool this Saturday and Sunday, when a total of 376 swimmers from 22 clubs from Northern California will compete in various swimming events.

George Harrison, Olympic swimmer, will swim both days in the 200-yard freestyle and the 220-yard butterfly.

Steve Skold of the Campbell Swim Club, who is one of five national record holders, will also compete. Five boys from the Berkeley City Club who hold records as fastest swimmers in their age group and classes, will also be on hand for the meet.

Len Scroggins, Campbell swim coach, is in charge of the event. He has announced that starting time for heats will be 9:30 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, with finals takiing place at 2:30 p.m. each day.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to first three place winners, with a high point trophy for boy and girl in age group events, and one team trophy.

The event is sanctioned by Pacific Association of the A. A. U.

Explorer Post Goes Camping

Campbell's new Explorer Post No. 35, sponsored by Quito-Saratoga Kiwanis Club, returned last week from an 8-day camping trip at Medicine Lake.

Richard H. Lindsay, post adviser, reported on the many activities the boys took part in, including fishing, hiking and visiting the many points of interest in the vicinity, such as Little Mount Hoffman and National Lava Beds. They were successful in capturing a porcupine on a porcupine hunt.

Adviser Lindsay remarked on the fine cooperation from Rangers contacted on the trip.

Explorers in th eparty, besides the adviser, were: Floyd L. Dearborn, assistant adviser; Richard B. Lindsay senior crew leader; Terry Smith, deputy senior crew leader; David Dearborn, crew leader; Pete Upchurch, assistant crew leader, and Dennis McVey, scribe.

The post, organized last June 1st, is already making plans for a more remote camping trip for next year, possibly in Trinity Alps. The trip to Medicine Lake was a practice outing for the newly-organized post.

All boys in the Moreland School District who have reached the age of 14, are invited to join the new Post.

Attends Confab On Homemaking

After attending the annual conference of vocational homemaking teachers at Whittier College in Whittier, on August 21, 22, and 23, Mrs. Adele Charlson, head of Campbell Union High School's home economics department decided that Campbell's homemaking students rate pretty high in achievements, when compared with other schools in the state.

Theme of the meet, "Home—The Focus of Homemaking Education", stressed importance of training girls for home living. Mrs. Charlson reports that during the session, many worthwhile ideas were offered for bringing about better cooperation of home, school and community.

There were morning, afternoon and evening sessions and those attending spent a great deal of time at these sessions getting valuable information on homemaking education.

More than 235 homemaking teachers from all over the state attended the conference. Besides Mrs. Charlson, the only one attending from Campbell Union High School, two other area schools were represented at the conference, one from San Jose and two from Fremont.

Climaxing the three-day session, teachers attending the meet were taken on a trip through Knott's Berry Farm.

Helen DeLauder and Melford Doane United in Nuptials at St. Lucy's

When Miss Helen Georgina DeLauder became the bride of Melford Francis Doane at St. Lucy's Church on August 18, The Rev. John S. Duryea officiated at the nuptial Mass. Rev. Duryea is head of the Newman Club at San Jose State College, where the couple first met.

White stock and gladioli banked the altar and the first six pews were marked with large white satin bows and white daisies. Miss Virginia Keller, at the organ accompanied Mrs. Harvey Gordon who sang "Ave Maria", "O, Lord, I am Not Worthy" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother".

When she was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, Miss De Lauder wore a gown of her own creation. The floor length gown of white satin had a full skirt with overskirts of tulle and embroidered-scalloped net, and a scalloped panel forming a long train in the back. The fitted bodice had a net embroidered scalloped sweetheart neckline, with long sleeves completing the gown. Her fingertip veil descended from a pearl and rhinestone coronet. A cascade bouquet of Stephanotis, centered with a white orchid corsage, completed her wedding attire.

Bridal attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns of nile green with carnation garlands in their hair. The matron of honor wore a garland of yellow carnations and the three bridesmaids wore green carnations.

Mrs. Elaine Protti of San Francisco attended the bride as her matron of honor, and her bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Carol DeLauder; Miss Georgia Hall, and Miss Norma Doane, sister of the groom.

Lorie Alexander, three-year-old niece of the groom, was the bride's flower girl. Her nile green dress matched those of the bridesmaids and she wore yellow carnations in her hair. In her white basket she carried small yellow roses.

Faber L. Johnston performed duties of the best man, and ushers were William Alexander, brother-in-law of the groom, Harvey Gordon and Dave Suppiger.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. DeLauder chose a powder blue dress with a small matching hat. With it she wore clear plastic shoes and carried a matching handbag. White three-quarter length gloves and an orchid corsage completed her costume.

The groom's mother wore a fawn-colored crepe dress with brown accessories and a brown clipped beaver hat. A corsage of Mexican orchids was pinned at her shoulder.

A wedding breakfast for relatives and close friends of the couple was held at the Live Oak Inn in Los Gatos, after the ceremony and a reception for more than 200 relatives and friends of the couple followed at the Lyndon Hotel in Los Gatos. Their four-tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bells.

When the justweds left for their wedding trip in the northern part of the state, the new Mrs. Doane wore a beige sheath with brown suede shoes and bag, a dusty rose hat and beige gloves. She wore the white orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James DeLauder of 561 Emory St. in Campbell. She attended Campbell schools and is a June graduate of San Jose State College where she was affiliated with the Newman Club and Chi Sigma social service group. She is presently employed at the Social Service Department in Santa Cruz. The bride also taught catechism for three years at St. Lucy's School. She has a sister, Carol, and a brother, James, who attend Campbell Union High School.

SERVICE STATION SATURATION

Recently the City Planning Commission denied a zone change request which, if approved, would have permitted part of a residential area to become commercial.

In denying such requests the Planners are placed in the unenviable position of being accused by some people of thwarting business. In this particular case, the applicant desired the zone change in order that a service station could be built on the corner of Winchester Road and Kennedy Ave.

We agree wholeheartedly with the action of the Planning Commission in this instance.

Aside from the fact that in a sense it would have been "spot zoning" (and the Planners have frowned on that for some time), the Commission considered the "need and necessity" for such a change.

It is our opinion, and we are happy to say that the Planners are of the same mind, that it would be extremely difficult to make out a case for the need for another filling station on Winchester Road in the city limits.

We are the first to admit the need for plenty of service stations, but we are convinced that "service station saturation" has been reached on that particular stretch of road within the city limits.

At the risk of being chastized by the oil companies who are continually looking for more fields to conquer, we maintain that good public relations on their part should call for more consideration in their planning of a community's needs.

As a general rule, every business, large or small, is looking for more business. And far be it from us to stand in the way of progress on that score. We agree with the theory that America is a country of free enterprise and that every man should be entitled to enter his own business whether it is a service station or a factory.

But we believe that every person, firm or organization also has a responsibility to the community in which he lives or in which he does business.

This planning for the future (or even the present) is quite a headache. To be successful it takes the cooperation of all and not just the members of the Planning Commission or their Planning Consultant.

We feel that the Planning Commission and the City Council should do everything in their power to expedite legitimate enterprises getting a start in the community.

But not at the expense of the community as a whole.

PROGRESS LEAVES ITS MARK

It has now become almost standard practice that every decision made by the city government relative to the future development of this community will either work a hardship on some property owners or at least inconvenience them to some extent.

To prove our point all we need to do is to cite as examples the future widening of various streets within the city limits.

Almost every resident will agree that the heavily traveled thoroughfares in town need extra width.

Yet to accomplish this objective it means that property fronting on these streets will be affected in some way or other.

In some cases taking the needed land from the property owners will not be too upsetting. But in other instances it will cause considerable inconvenience.

There is no solution to this vexing problem.

Take for example the eventual widening of Winchester Road.

The Planning Commission is now considering the official plan line for the street and the engineers have recommended that the additional land needed be taken equally from both sides of the street.

Despite the fact that the property owners on the street are aparently in agreement, that it is inevitable that the street be widened, they are in definite disagreement over how it should be done.

Those on one side of the road think the land should all come from the other side. It would take a King Solomon of gigantic stature to satisfy all the people in this case. And we think even King Solomon would have quite a time.

This is only one illustration of how progress leaves its mark.

But we all must face this ever-present problem. We must realize that some are bound to be more affected than others and there is very little to be done about it.

OUT on the LIMB

with

George Vierhus

We ended last week's offering in this column on the theme that we would in a subsequent installment expand our note with reference to Sam Reed, and Milt Nelson in regard to the future status of the Roosevelt Redwood.

Apparantly not too many of our readers have been tingling with anticipation over the announced serial. But be that as it may, we still think we owe it to the chosen few to finish with what we started. No matter how flat it falls.

Sam Reed, as you probably know is principal of Campbell High, Milt Nelson, partner in Nelson Grain and Milling is also president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce. Sam is also a director of the local C. of C.

Aside from the fact that they both are serving on the board of the Chamber, the two guys have something also in common.

They are both graduates of Campbell Union High School.

—o—

They both recall, of course, when the Campbell High School was situated across the street from where the elementary school is now located on property now occupied by Vince's Food Center.

They both also remember when the Roosevelt Redwood was traditionally used by the high school classes as the center for various activities (In order not to give the wrong impression, neither Milt nor Sam were around, however, when the tree was planted by President Roosevelt in 1903. We hurriedly add that for our own self-protection.)

Naturally the two men have a warm feeling toward the tree. Apropos of that poem we all learned years ago:

"Woodman spare that tree
Touch not a single bough
In youth it sheltered me
And I'll protect it now."

We are not implying that Milt and Sam are going to let their sentiment run away with them. But we feel pretty certain that they will advocate that, if it is economically feasible, the tree should be saved.

—o—

We would be pretty disappointed if they wouldn't. As a matter of fact, we'll make book that the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will go on record favoring the saving of the tree.

Heck, with their two votes and ours, we are almost in as good a position as Adelai Stevenson was in Chicago. Or Dick Nixon was in San Francisco.

—o—

The Republican convention is now past history but the memory of that conclave will long linger. Especially is that true as far as we are concerned.

As an accredited correspondent to the gathering, we covered two of the four-days. We thoroughly enjoyed every minute and it was one of the outstanding experiences of our life.

We have long been a student of history and have read and reread the accounts of the various conventions in the past. To have been present at one of 'em is to have reached the ultimate objective for us.

There were many thrills for us but we think the greatest one was when the band and pipe organ filled the great hall with the strains of "Hail to the Chief" and Ike and Mamie walked down the ramp onto the speaker's platform.

Even a stone image would have had a tough time at that moment keeping from showing emotion. As we are not made of stone we had a pretty fair-sized lump in our throat and we were mighty proud of being American. At the time whether it was a Republican American or a Democratic American seemed to be very unimportant.

—o—

At the risk of being considered facetious after such a high level state of affairs, we must also report that in face of the current Roosevelt Redwood controversy, it was suggested to us that we invite Ike up from Cypress Point to plant a tree in Campbell.

The cynical character who suggested such an act went on to say that it would solve the whole tree problem in one shovelful of dirt.

We just pass that on without comment.

—o—

We were the recipients this week of an outstanding example of cooperation on the part of Edward E. Briggs, Los Gatos postmaster.

As we all know postmasters sometimes have a heck of a time pleasing all their customers. In this instance, we want to report that Postmaster Briggs went 'way out of his way to give us a helping hand.

Just recently a number of people who take The Press had their addresses changed from Los Gatos to San Jose.

Postmaster Briggs on his own volition furnished us with a complete list of those Press subscribers who were affected by this change of address. The list showed both the old and the new addresses.

We certainly appreciated it. It assisted us greatly in getting our lists in shape.

Recalls 60 Years Ago

Campbell Press,
Gentlemen:

I have just received the enclosed clipping (Ed. note: We had already used the story) from a boyhood friend of mine. We were in the Campbell Grammar School (6th, 7th and 8th grades).

This was about 60 years ago.

The eighth grade was a class of 10 students. Five boys and five girls. They were five Democrats and five Republicans. It was the year of the Bryan and McKinley election.

Judge Wakeman thought this might interest some people now living in Campbell, so if you think it advisable you can print it.

I or my family have been subscribers to your paper since it was started. I remember when Frank Blaine printed the first copy of The Campbell Weekly Visitor.

Sincerely yours
E. R. KENNEDY

NEED SEWERS

Editor Campbell Press
Dear Sir:—

Last night my wife called me out saying "Come quick, see what's happened" and lo and behold—I see STREET LIGHTS all over the street for the first time. It's a wonderful improvement, also within recent months we noticed the police patrol car patroling the neighborhood several times.

Well now we feel like we belong. BUT there is room for more improvement, for instance WE NEED SEWERS VERY VERY BADLY. The whole neighborhood is anxiously waiting for that, especially as all around the San Tomas School, there is NO drainage into the ground. There are a lot of children in this neighborhood and as conditions are now it may be a serious health menace, which may even carry over into other schools into town.

We do hope something will be done about that very soon. We realize that the whole valley is having growing pains but this is serious. Petitions have been circulated and a good percentage of home owners signed up, so we hope and pray.

Sincerely,
ROBERT WURFER, Sr.

Richards Swings Into Campaign

A fortnight after returning from Chicago, where he was a delegate to the Democratic Convention, Richard Richards, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senator, immediately launched into a vigorous state-wide "meet the people" campaign.

Accompanied by A. J. McDonald, formerly Field Director for U. S. Senator John F. Kennedy, the Los Angeles State Senator arrives in San Francisco today, culminating a four-day ten-city tour up the California coast, the Salinas valley and down the Monterey peninsula.

The four day trip, forerunner of an itinerary which will eventually carry him from the Mexican to the Oregon border before November 6, was made in the senator's special red, white and blue Rambler station wagon and carried Richards and his companion to Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, San Luis Obispo, Paso Robles, King City, Salinas, Hollister, Watsonville, Monterey and Santa Cruz.

WHAT'S DOING

T. K. Nordheim, your Telephone Manager in Campbell

It's more than a job—it's a career

Did you know that one out of every five telephone men have been with Pacific Telephone over 20 years? One out of four telephone women have been with us over ten years. Many have been with us much longer. For a telephone job is much more than just a job. It's a career. And as telephone men and women gain valuable experience, they move up to jobs with more responsibility. This gives all of us at Pacific Telephone a sense of accomplishment. And it means that your telephone service is always in the hands of well trained, experienced people. It means better service to you. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

They'll be as close as your telephone

Well, they'll soon be packed up and off to school. And then the slam-bang activity that's been going on all summer will slow down. Sure, it'll be peaceful. But it's a good bet, too, that you'll be happy to hear their voices often. So why not plan now to make regular telephone visits with your boy or girl away at school this coming semester. You can tell them to call home collect, too. You'll be surprised to find how low long distance rates really are, especially after 6 o'clock on weekdays and all day Sundays.

Meet "Fritz" Boege, who has been appointed District Traffic Superintendent of this area. 'Fritz,' as he likes to be known, started with the Pacific Company at San Francisco in 1946. He has held various responsible jobs in San Francisco until August, 1953. At that time he accepted a position with The American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York as a traffic planning engineer. He worked on the Bell System's long range planning for nationwide direct distance dialing. "Fritz" and his wife, Margaret, and their three children, Lynn, Beverly and Tim, will make their home in this valley. Pacific Telephone.

LOOK UP!

POWER LINES ARE OVERHEAD

HAY DERRICKS ... plus carelessness around power lines ... cause fatalities in California every year. A driver guesses his derrick will go under that power line. He fails to allow for uneven ground and for bouncing of the derrick. He fails to LOOK UP! The derrick touches an overhead electric line ... death may result! California law requires employers to keep crews and equipment away from power lines ... so never stack hay under a power line. Tell your farmhands and remember it yourself ... always look up when operating a hay derrick ... always take care with irrigation pipe, nut poles, TV antennas, well-drilling rigs and cranes.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Among the many thousands of Americans who annually visit the estate of George Washington in Mount Vernon, Virginia, there are many who do not know that there are two places, both of which are called "Washington's Tomb". One is on the grounds of Mount Vernon, in the family cemetery. The other is beneath the crypt in the sub-basement of the United States Capitol in Washington. The latter, however, is empty. In accordance with his will, George Washington was buried in Mount Vernon, and so—three years later—was his wife, Martha Washington.

It all came about because Congress, in gratitude and veneration of the first President, wished to honor him with a tomb and monument in the exact center of the Capitol, to be visited by succeeding generations. Accordingly, a resolution was passed a week after Washington's death, providing that a marble monument be erected in the Capitol, and that the family of George Washington be requested to permit his body to be transferred from the vault at Mount Vernon to the Capitol and deposited in a space beneath the monument which was to be designed so as to commemorate the great events of his military and political life.

Washington's widow granted the request a month later. That portion of the Capitol was constructed between 1818 and 1829. By 1832, the Congress was ready to proceed with the ceremonies, but a further resolution was passed, requesting that the remains of Martha Washington likewise be transferred to the Capitol. The request was granted by George Washington Parke Custis, grandson of Mrs. Washington, but the trasfer never did come to pass.

On February 20, 1932, the General Assembly of Virginia voted unanimously to request the then current proprietor of Mount Vernon, John A. Washington, not to consent to the removal. The Virginians stated that George Washington should remain enshrined in his native state, particularly in view of the fact that the burial ground at Mount Vernon was designated by the dying patriot himself.

Insurance Firms Pay Millions in Taxes in State

The 662 insurance companies authorized to do business in California in 1955 will pay over 42½ million dollars of insurance premium taxes this year into the State General Fund as a result of assessments made recently by the State Board of Equalization. This is an increase of $3,440,000, or 9 per cent, over last year's figures, accordiing to George R. Reilly, First District Member of the Board.

Almost two-thirds of the taxes were assessed against the 537 insurors who wrote fire, automobile, health and accident, workmen's compensation, and other casualty policies. This group of underwriters collected $1,390,688,000 in premiums on such policies in 1955 and returned $213,197,000 to their clients in policy dividends and unearned promiums. The tax levied on their net collections was $26,883,000, an amount that exceeds last year's levies by 6.8 per cent.

Next largest contributor to the more than $42-million total was the life insurance business. The 156 life insurers in the State collected $754,202,00 of premiums on life and annuity policies, returned nearly $94 million in policy dividens and unearned premiums, and incurred a premium tax liability of $14,732,000—11.5 per cent more than in the preceding year.

Sixteen title insurance companies with tax liabilities totaling $831,000—up 30 per cent from last year—and 133 ocean marine insurers assessed for $84,900 account for the balance of the State Board's assessments. These two groups will pay slightly more than 2 per cent of the total amount assessed by the Board.

True wisdom is to know what is best worth knowing, and to do what is best worth doing.

CHP Says Traffic Law Violators Are Potential Killers

"Traffic law violators are potential killers," says the California Highway Patrol.

"This statement is based on the fact that 86 per cent of all traffic accidents in California last year were the result of traffic law violations," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "This year we are experiencing what is expected to be the greatest traffic death record in the history of the state.

"Frequently the difference between a minor traffic accident and an injury or death dealing crash is the element of luck," Caldwell continued. "Every enforcement effort of this department is geared to stop all traffic violations and accidents through the professional patrol and control of traffic.

"Our success depends, to a great extent, on the cooperation of the drivers who use our highways," he said. "Self policing by every motorist will aid in reducing the traffic accident toll in that each driver who follows the rule will be most apt to stay out of accident

SPRING FLOWERING BULBS

Spring-flowering bulbs are probably among the most popular of all garden flowers but while awaiting their blooms the garden bed is apt to be uninteresting. The California Association of Nurserymen suggest that gardeners planting such bulbs as Daffodils, Hyacinths, Lilies and Tulips cover over the bulb beds with early-blooming annuals and thus keep the garden attractive at all times.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Broadcast these seeds directly into the garden: Virginia Stock, Alyssum, Calendula, Clarkia, Godetia, Larkspur, Viscaria and Shirley Poppies.
2. Chrysanthemums are one of the best Fall color plants.
Many nurserymen are offering them at this time.
3. Watering is the most important garden task right now. Water deeply and save on water.
4. Here are some bulbs which can be planted now—Freesias, Ixias, Sparaxis and Madonna Lilies.
5. Its time for a Fall garden clean-up-spray.

Annuals, Perennials now.

The color show that has been going on in your garden these summer months needn't stop now. By planting winter or early spring blooming annuals now you can extend your enjoyment of brightly colored flowers througout much of the winter and into spring, the California Association of Nurserymen suggests.

The bright blue of the annual Bachelors button (Centaura Cyanus) combines beautifully with other Winter flowers in the garden or in bouquets. Elegant Clarkia Mountain Garland has showy spires of pink and rose which are wonderful "brightener-uppers" for a winter and spring garden. Pastel-shaded flowers bloom on another Clarkia species, pulchella. Clarkia should be planted in warm,sandy, not-too-moist soils. It will perform best in mild winter areas before the weather gets hot.

Flowers of soft pastel shades of blues, plnks,rose, salmon, lilac and carmine are offered by the Larkspur (Delphinum Ajacis) in its early spring bloom. Plant the Larkspur in mild winter areas in full sun. Larkspur are wonderful cut flowers and are also valued for their vertical form in the garden.

Showy and sun-loving, the Cape Marigold (Bimorphatheca), a native of South Africa, brings gay white, yellow, orange, apricot and salmon flowers into the gardens in milder climates during late winter and spring. The Cape Marigold should be planted in full sun for the daisy-like flowers close in shade.

In addition to annuals for planting now there are many perennials to plant for winter and spring color. The African Daisy (Arctotis) is deservedly one of the most popular from late fall to early spring. Its flowers are white, pink, lavender, purple, yellow and orange. The plant spreads wide and needs plenty of room in full sun.

The Marguerite or Paris Daisy (Chrysanthemum frutescens) adds its daisy-like floral charm to the garden scene in mild winter areas. Its flowers are solitary white or lemon-colored borne in great profusion over the shrub-like plant.

Gazania is a favorite perennial that blooms nearly all year offering an abundance of gaudy scarlet wine, rose, bronze and multi-colored flowers. Give the Gazania full sun and room for its rapid spreading foliage. It will serve you well as a colorfull utility for parking strips and bank covers.

Colorfull Pyracanthas

Bright beauty produced with a minimum of care—such is the Pyracantha. This handsome berried evergreen requires no special care and in fact will flourish even if somewhat neglected.

The simple cultural requirements of the Pyracantha or Firethorn include a place in the full sun and pinch pruning to direct growth. Berries are produced on second year wood. Branches that have berries should be cut back only to the laterals, according to the California Association of Nurserymen.

There are more than 15 Pyracantha varieties suitable for espaliers against wall or trellises, for covers over flat or hilly grounds and for hedges. They bear variously colored berries.

Pyracantha Rosedale is a lovely variety revealing its beauty in the Spring with arching sprays of ivory white, lacy flowers; highlighted by dark green foliage. In Fall and Winter, branches are covered with dark red berries. This Pyracantha is disease-resistant and can be espaliered or grown as a hedge.

The hardiest species of the Pyracantha is the coccinea which includes the Government Red and Ialandii varieties, with red and orange berries, respectively. The Crenato-serrata species, including red-berried graberi and Santa Cruz varieties, grow in a spreading manner, seldom more than six feet high.

In addition to the previously mentioned Rosedale there are several other horticultural varieties of unknown parentage. These include Victory, which grows to 10 feet with dark red winter berries; San Jose, with wide-spreading, large scarlet berries; and Walderi with low-growing and wide-spreading with red berries.

Cyclamen, Cinerarias, Primroses

As summer draws to a close, it is time to begin fall planting of the flowers that bring bright floral colors to your Winter garden. Three of the most attractive winterblooming flowers recommended by California Association of Nurserymen are the Cyclamen, Cineraria and Primrose.

Two types of the Cyclamen can be grown during the Winter: the Florists' Cyclamen (C. indicum) and the hardy species of atkinsii, coum and europaeum. In mild winter areas, these can be grown in the ground, but where winters are cold the Florists' Cyclamen should be set in indoor pots.

To plant Cyclamen outdoors, choose a spot with filtered shade or with an east or northeast exposure. Hardy Cyclamen prefer a soil with a little lime while the Florists' needs a slightly acid soil. Plant the Cyclamen tubers so that they protrude slightly above the ground. During dormancy keep the plant moist with occasional overhead spray.

Many Primroses (Primulas) have adapted themselves to western climate and are widely planted throughout California. Among these are the English, Alpine, Candelabra and Woodland. In the Woodland group, the Primula saxatilis bears dainty lavender pink flowers on 12 inch stems from April to November.

Cinerarias are perennials commonly grown as annuals, and as such make fine late Winter annuals. Set them in the shade in rich, light, well-prepared soil with leaf mold and rotted manure generously added before planting. Fertilze with a liquid preparation regularly and keep the soil moist.

TEMPERATE CLIMATE

In most of California we enjoy temperate weather throughout the year and therefore miss the Fall change of leaf color. Changing from green to yellow, orange or scarlet, the leaves of deciduous trees give a fine color show before the Winter. Some trees adaptable to California climates provide beautiful Fall colors too. Such trees are the Sweet Gum (Liquidambar), the Chinese Pistache (Pistache chinensis) and the Maidenhair (Gingko bilboa). See them at your nurseryman's now.

INDOOR DECORATIONS

For indoor decorations at Christmas time the berries of the Pyracantha are ideal. By selecting now some young shrubs of the many varieties available in this berry family, you should have several berry-laden branches to use in your home in December.

NEW LAWNS IN FALL

An excellent time to plant new lawns is early Fall, before the rains come. Get your nurseryman's advice on the correct way to prepare the seedbed and sow the grass seed. If you have decided against grass, there are numerous substitutes that are attractive such as English Ivy, Wild Strawberry and Dichondra.

Texas declared ite independence of Mexico in 1835.

Rev. Herbert Neale Reports

Local Minister on Europe Studytour Sails Down Volga River in Russia

Editor's Note: The Rev. Herbert Neale, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Campbell, is on a Studytour of Europe with a group from San Francisco State College and from other parts of the country. Rev. Neale has spent considerable time behind the Iron Curtain. The following is another report from Rev. Neale, gathered from notes in letters he has written home.

By The Rev. Herbert Neale,
Pastor, First Methodist Church
Campbell

In a little over an hour we shall reach Rostov for only an overnight stay. Then we leave for Yalta, the summer capital of Russia.

We have been sailing down the Volga River, the Volga-Don Canal, and now the Don River. The Don River is 280 feet higher than the Volga. Their canal system opened in 1954 between these two great rivers seems well engineered and built. They have created an artificial lake, through which we sail, 125 miles by 41 miles (also used for power purposes). Whole villages were moved, even the houses. Everything except the churches and you can see from the boat one of the church towers protruding from the lake.

Through the Steppes

We are passing through the endless tundra or steppes of this part of Russia. Also passing through the Cossack territory where the "Don Cossacks" originally came from. The boat stops five or six times a day to permit new passengers to get aboard; but particularly to allow the Russian passengers to get off and buy tomatoes, cucumbers, apples, yogurt, smoked fish and cheese for one of their meals. They seem to eat the same thing for each meal.

As we gather in the lounge we have such interesting conversations with the Russians. They are most friendly, simple people. They are just as eager to take our pictures as we are to have theirs. Most of them have never seen Americans before and their curiosity and friendliness are unlimited.

Last night a full moon shone on the deck as we crossed the inland lake. At midnight we stopped at the great dam before going through the last locks which dropped us down to the Don River. A group of us sang Spirituals on the wharf while many Russians listened. It is amazing the number of Russians who are learning to speak English, even in small villages. They seem more practical at this point than we—I don't know of any high schools (there may be some) and very few colleges teaching Russian and yet here is a nation of over 200,000,000 people with whom we just must have peace. Intercommunication is basic.

Three-Deck Boat

Our steamboat down the river is a three deck boat and new and very nice. I really feel at this moment like a wealthy tourist. This has been our first rest and came just at the right time. I feel quite ready for the second half of our trip.

Aug. 3rd, Kiev

Kiev is the oldest city in Russia. It's been destroyed by wars so often that it is practically a new city, the most beautiful one we have seen in Russia. New buildings, parks, flowers galore and better dressed people. This is the capital of the Ukraine, the bread basket of Russia.

Today we've seen a camp for Young Naturalists—600 boys and girls between the ages of ten and sixteen years. How they did sing! They do experimental farming, something like our 4H clubs and Future Farmers.

In contrast we also visited St. Sophia Cathedral, the oldest monastery in Russia. The Monastery is completely underground. The monks live, worship, etc just the way they did in the ninth century. It was like stepping back into the Dark Ages. Old, sick, poor people had come to be blessed or healed by relics!

Broad Qualifications

Six-County Bay Area Smog Board Search for Control Officer to End

WANTED: A man with scientific background, business training, a lot of experience and a pleasing personality to take over administration of a new, 3800-square mile district governmental organization comprising six Bay Area counties and more than three million citizens. Job starts October 1. Salary: At least $15,000 a year.

47 Men Apply

The formal job notice issued last Spring was longer and more detailed but it attracted the interest of 47 men from all over the United States who want to take a crack at one of the biggest positions of its kind in the country.

The search, launched by the board of directors of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, is rapidly coming to an end. To assist in its selection job, the district called on the State Personnel Board which recently eliminated all but 12 of the 47 applicants.

On Tesday, the twelve were reduced to six and the final choice will be left to the district directors. Their action is expected on September 5.

The man who survives this elaborate sifting process will be known as Administrative Control Officer for the new district agency which includes San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Mateo, and Santa Clara Counties.

Broad Powers

By act of the legislature (Assembly Bill 3545, May 1955) this man will be given broad power and authority to reduce and prevent air pollution which has been increasingly noticeable in recent years. His authority will extend over boards of supervisors, city councils and other district governmental organizations within the six-county area.

Specifications for the control officer's job suggest that the candidate finally selected must be a versatile man—a combination engineer, medic, business administrator and public relations man.

Desirable qualifications for the job include "broad education with specialization in either government, business, engineering, natural science, public health or closely related field, and at least five years successful executive and administrative experience preferably in governmental organization."

He must also have ability to plan and execute programs and administrative operations; ability to gain public and private support and to plan and direct the work of others.

A pleasing personality is expected of this officer, as well as the ability to get along with others, ability to speak well in public and proven ability in public relations work.

He will be expected to plan and direct an air pollution control program for the district, subject of course, to legislative and district board determination of policy.

This man will serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. In other words, the job carries no security.

Police Powers

The law will give this official power to enforce rules and regulations aimed at controlling air pollution. In this respect, the control officer's authority may reach into the backyard of the average homeowner to forbid such air polluting activity as incinerator burning. He may act with equal authority against a city or county if either should ignore an order to halt dump burning.

Mortality rate among air pollution control officers in other areas has been high, pressure and complaints almost unbearable. Much is demanded in a field not yet fully understood.

Why The Interest?

In a job with such occupational hazards and no contract or security, are so many people interested in it?

The Bay Area District job offers several rewards not found elsewhere in the field of air pollution control:

1. Air pollution in the Bay Area, except for a few days each year, is by no means critical. The control officers should be able to work without the panic and harassment that go with severe conditions in other areas.
2. In a field where much pioneering is being done, the Bay Area provides an excellent opportunity for testing, fact finding and data collection.
3. The control officer will not inherit the mistakes or problems of another administration. He starts out with a clean slate.
4. The six participating counties are cooperating in an unusual manner. All have given full support, financial and moral, to the program and will undoubtedly give the control officer of their choice a free hand to prove his ability.
